Dear Parents

We are beginning our transition activities tomorrow afternoon. These will be Covid secure as teachers will visit their new class in the children's current year group classrooms. It is unfortunate that the children cannot visit their new classrooms at this stage but this is to avoid any risk of cross contamination.

All classes will be mixed as they move into their new year group and you will receive the name of your class teacher with your child's annual report on Friday. Children will meet their new teacher on Wednesday afternoon and again on Friday morning for transition activities. Some children will be remaining with their current teacher and some teachers will be changing year group. We are being joined by one new teacher in September, Mr. Steve Parry, who has been covering teachers' release time over the last few weeks. Please see the list of teachers and their classes at the bottom of this page.

Teachers will also have a handover meeting with the current class teacher.

We are hoping to hold year group meetings for parents early in September, assuming all returns to some sort of 'new normal'. This will be an opportunity for you to meet your child's teacher, hear about what and how the children will be learning in their new year group and hopefully get a chance to see their new classroom.
